Dry City Brew Works of Wheaton, Illinois - July 16th

The Alumni and Collegiate Chapters organized a wonderful social event on a beautiful Saturday evening in July. The Dry City Brew Works in Wheaton is owned and operated by Brother Ben Sampson (ΑΣ 935) a 2006 graduate from the University of Illinois College of Pharmacy. Years ago, Wheaton was a totally dry town. Brother Ben has changed that !! The brewery is small and seating is limited, but has that ever stopped a Phi Dexer from having a good time. Ben creates a great assortment of “Pharmaceutically Elegant” brews, including a PDC Pilsner made especially for the event. There was a great turn out of alumni and everyone enjoyed the time to reminisce about the good old times at the College of Pharmacy and the PDC-Alpha Sigma house located at 724 South Oakley Boulevard. The students that attended appreciated the stories, photographs and history of the Alpha Sigma Chapter. (see photos on page 3)
